Forward

For many decades, we have been doing research in the use of different dashas given in Parashari and Jaimini texts. While now some of the Jaimini dashas have come into effective use, the nakshatra dashas of Parashara needed extensive and original research to discover effective predictive tools.

I had asked N.K.Sharma and Jhanjhi to do some work on Yogini Dasha many years ago and they produced a book which has been in use now.

The fascination of Yogini dasha is that it seems to be the best of dashas for timing events even in cases where the uncertainty of birth time with slight error can give degrees of Moon which would need rectification. In the case of Yogini dasha, with the unrectified degrees of Moon, events can still be times with remarkable closeness.

A controversy arose in the case of Yogini mainly because of its shortness it being a dasha of only thirty six years. Life is not a story of exact replication of events of life of the first thirty six years in the next thirty six years. How is this riddle to be unravelled?

In a research group of Bharatiya Vidya Bhawan, I discussed this with students and suggested many approaches which were:

1. If the first cycle of Yogini Dasha starts with janma nakshatra or the birth constellation, the second one could possibly start with Lagna or Sun etc. It would then give us different starting points for each of the cycle of Yogini Dasha. Will it solve the problem?
2. Could we follow the Chara Dasha pattern and keep moving in Yogini Dasha in a systematic and chronological order as the nakshatras as spread on the zodiac? May be this could solve the problem of not repeating mechanically the events of the first thirty six years of one's life.
3. The third method could be repeating the order of Yogini Dasha exactly as it is but changing the starting point of the second and third cycles from the next nakshatra so as not to the same horoscopic pattern for interpretation. This needs explaining. If in the case of a person born with Chitra Nakshatra, the starting dasha will be Mangala, next Pingala, Dhanya, Bhramari, Bhadraka, Ulka, Siddha and Sankata ending with the cycle ending with Uttarashada.

The next cycle could begin with Sharvan which is in Makara and therefore the changed starting point could be the pivotal point for the interpretation of the horoscope. It thus will follow the Chara dasha method of Jaimini retaining the nakshatra basis for astrological readings.

Different students worked on it and came out with their own researches some of which have been published in the Journal of Astrology both in Hindi and English.

Then one day Mr. V.P.Goel told me and the class that he had solved the riddle and briefly it was:

1. Yogini Dasha will have to be progressed and the starting point for each cycle will have to be different to avoid mechanical repetition of the readings for the first cycle. It was logical and he demonstrated with some horoscopes both in the class room and at my place.
2. The one major problem in Yogini Dasha is that with only eight Yogini it can cover only twenty four nakshatras out of twenty seven, leaving out three or necessitating the clubbing of the three with other nakshatras to make it all a harmonious scheme. Mr. Goel solved this problem by taking up the first three nakshatras, Ashwini, Bharani and Kritika and clubbing them with Poorva Bhadrapada, Uttara Bhadrapad and then Revati.
3. The next stage was more challenging. It was to test on given horoscopes, logically and systematically known events and explain them applying the normal principles of interpretation. He did it in many cases and particularly in mine in which he showed how in the year 2000 the progressed dasha in my case would reach the eighth house of serious sickness. This appealed and off and on I tried this method and found it working and explaining very cogently the event that happened.
4. Now came the final stage of "blind testing" when I gave him some horoscopes and asked him to explain the nature or hint at it, in a given year. I gave to him the horoscope of an Indian living in USA to whom I had given major predictions at a critical stage in his life after tracing some past events through my method of composite approach. Mr. Goel located the areas affected in the horoscope and the achievement or agony of the periods concerned. He has given that horoscope at the end of the chapter entitled "Classroom Testing".

I have seen the manuscript of Mr. Goel and have suggested to him that he should include some chapter illustrating

1. The calculation of Yogini Dasha
2. The method of progression which is the soul of this research.
3. How in the progressed horoscope the changed Lagna gives a different starting point with planets changing their placement and ownership.
4. In writing a book we have to keep in mind the three level of students we come across, the beginner, the middle level and the advanced ones. The beginner should be able to feel confident that he can handle Yogini Dasha with confidence, the middle level student should feel that he himself could proceed with his own researches on the lines given in the book and the advanced student should feel rewarded with the addition of new dasha with its potent uses to his repertoire of predictive techniques.

I am happy that with this book the riddle of Yogini Dasha is solved very satisfactorily and there can be improvements on this research which is a major breakthrough. It is necessary to state so here because the late Hardeo Sharma Trivedi never used Yogini Dasha because he thought that the second and third cycles of this dasha would lead to mechanical interpretation. But I know of many Garhwal astrologers who use Yogini Dasha invariably and prefer it to any other dasha for their major predictions. I also know that they have some secret technique of progressing it which they have not revealed like what is known as the Paramayu dasha of Kumaon (Nainital and Almora areas) which is used only to calculate the span of life. The Paramayu dasha works well, resembles Vimshottari dasha but its calculation remains a secret even now.

Similarly, if one riddle of Yogini Dasha is solved, as has happened in this research, we can proceed confidently to its multifarious uses and application to many aspects of life.

First cycle

1. Mangala MOON
2. Pingala SUN
3. Dhanya JUPITER
4. Bhrama/Mari MARS
5. Bhadraka MERCURY
6. Ulka SATURN
7. Siddha VENUS

8. Sankata RAHU(KETU)

Second cycle

1. Mangala MOON
2. Pingala SUN
3. Dhanya JUPITER
4. Bhrama/Mari MARS
5. Bhadraka MERCURY
6. Ulka SATURN
7. Siddha VENUS
8. Sankata RAHU(KETU)

Third cycle

1. Mangala MOON
2. Pingala SUN
3. Dhanya JUPITER
4. Bhrama/Mari MARS
5. Bhadraka MERCURY
6. Ulka SATURN
7. Siddha VENUS
8. Sankata RAHU(KETU)

This will remain constant in all cases. But it is seen according to nakshatras the change that will have to be made is as follows.

1. Ardra Mangala
2. Punarvasu Pingala
3. Pushya Dhanya
4. Ashlesha
5. Magha
6. P.Phalguni
7. U.Phalguni
8. Hasta
9. Chitra
10. Swati
11. Vishakha
12. Anuradha
13. Jyestha
14. Moola
15. P.Ashadha
16. Uttarashadha
17. Shravana
18. Dhanista

19. Shatabhisha
20. P.Bhadrapad (Ashwini)
21. U Bhadrapad (Bharani)
22. Revati (Krittika)

NOTE: The jump here is of three nakshatra, Ashwini, Bharani and Krittika. They are being skipped because they have been bracketted with other nakshatras in this scheme of progression. In Yogini dasha, only twenty four nakshatras can be accommodated with three becoming superfluous apparently. But these three cannot be overlooked and omitted. Bracketting them with other nakshatras, solves the problem as can be seen in the illustrated examples of this book.

Having done that now follow the uninterrupted scheme thus.

23. Rohini
24. Mrigshira Sankata

Keep this table before and mark your Janma nakshatra and proceed as given here. For Instance if you are born in Mrigshira nakshatra the birth has taken place in Sankata (but Mrigshira). After you have completed thirty six years of your life you will again get Sankata but it will start from Hasta. Treating Hasta as you progressed horoscope proceed to analyse the events. Here, those who know Jalmini Chara dasha will notice the progression very orderly and in keeping with the changing hues and colours of life's changed pattern and kalaedoscope.

Introduction

This book is the result of sustained probing of the classical principles laid out in Brihat Parashar Hora Shashtra, Mansagri etc. The credit to develop the probing minds goes to Institute of Astrology and Sh. K.N.Rao, the fountain head of new researches and modern application of Astrology.

Our research class in the semester Jan. 2002 took up Yogini Dasha and its application in timing of events. The challenge was to crack the riddle of progression of Yogini in different cycles of yogini. The method presented in this book is the outcome of efforts of the author, the seed of this inquiry was sown by Sh. Rao.

Our Sages have commanded that Vimshotari and Yogini dasha have universal application and should be used in Kallyug. Vimshotari have a full cycle of 120 years in nine nakshatras. One cycle of Yogini is almost one third of Vimshotri dasha. All 27 nakshatras contribute 123 years of Yogini dasha. Yogini is thus micro Vimshotari dasha and delineation is to be done with reference to nakshatra lord.

Each Yogini originate from three or four nakshatras. Three nakshatras of each yogini cover all twelve signs in navamshas. Three Yoginis Bhramari, Bhadraka and Ulka originate from four nakshatras. Two nakshatras have similar navamsha signs and are clubbed together which fulfill the cyclic continuity of the dasha scheme. It is therefore important to mention nakshatra along with yogini.

Progressing the Yogini periods with the Vimshotari nakshatra lords is the key to the analysis of Yogini. It is equally applicable to divisional charts and transit.

The book is amply illustrated with examples.

I am grateful to Sh. K.N.Rao for his guidance. Most of the example chart have been taken from books of Sh.Rao.

My prayers to Lord MAHADEVA who is the giver of yogini dasha.

I sincerely hope that this book will be of help to all lovers of Astrology.

Classical

Classical texts Brihat Parashara Hora Shashtra and Mansagari prescribe eight YOGINIS. These yoginis have individual lords and Dasha periods from one year to eight years to make total of thirty-six years in one cycle of operation.

The sequence of operation of these Yoginis, the Mahadasha period and the dasha lords are as under.

Table - I

Sr. No	Yoginis	Dasha Lord	Dasha Period
1.	Mangla	Moon	1 Year
2.	Pingla	Sun	2 Years
3.	Dhanya	Jupiter	3 Years
4.	Bhramari	Mars	4 Years
5.	Bhadrika	Mercury	5 Years
6.	Ulka	Saturn	6 Years
7.	Siddha	Venus	7 Years
8.	Sankata	Rahu	8 Years

Starting Dasha

Yogini dasha ruling at the time of epoch is based on the Nakshatra (Star) occupied by Moon. The Nakshatra number is counted from Ashwini, which is taken as one. Add three to the Nakshatra number so arrived. Divide the sum by eight. Ignore the quotient. The remainder obtained represent the Yogini dasha operating at the time of epoch. The remainder number is the Sr. No. of Table I. Abhijit nakshatra is not taken into account.

Balance of Dasha at birth

Full Dasha period of a yogini spans one Nakshatra. The degrees remaining to be traversed by Moon in the Nakshatra occupied is the proportional balance of Dasha at birth/epoch.

Order of Dasha

The yoginis follows the sequence given in above table I. After one cycle of thirty-six years, the sequence is repeated in the same order.

Sub periods

Major periods of each yogini Dasha is further divided into eight sub periods corresponding to eight yoginis. All eight yoginis divide each major period in proportion to their individual major period. The first sub period belong to major Dasha lord and other periods follow in given order.

A simple rule for finding the duration of sub period of P yogini in major period of Q yogini is;

Sub period = Dasha years of Q x Dasha period of P x 10 are the number of days of sub period.

Calculation Example

- Dasha at birth — Moon is in Cancer at 12 degree 40 min. It is in Pushya Nakshatra. Pushya is 8th Nakshatra from Ashwini. Add 3 to 8, which gives 11. Divide 11 by 8. Remainder is 3. Third Dasha is of Dhanya and is the Dasha at birth.
- Balance at birth — Pushya Nakshatra is from 3 deg. 20 min. to 16 deg. 40 min. The span is 13 deg. 20 min. From 12 deg. 40 min. moon is yet to cover 4 deg. 0 min. to reach end of Pushya. Dasha period of Dhanya is 3 years. Therefore balance of Dhanya will be 4 deg. 0 min. multiplied by three (Full period of Dasha) and divided by 13 deg. 20 min. This is converted into years, Months and days to give 10 Months 24 Days as balance of Dhanya Dasha.
- Order of Dasha — Dasha at birth is Dhanya and the order is Dhanya, Bhramari, Bhadraka, Ulka, Siddha, Sankata, Mangla, Pingla and again Dhanya.
- Sub periods — Suppose we want to know Siddha sub period in Ulka major. Multiply 6 by 7, which give 42. Again multiply it by 10. Result 420 is the number of days or one year two Months as the sub period of Siddha in Ulka major period and vice-versa.

Research

One complete cycle of yogini Dasha is of thirty-six years only. It is very useful in narrowing down the period in timing of events. Compared to Vimshottari Dasha it has the maximum period of any one dasha as eight years against twenty years in vimshottari.

A person can have three or more cycles of yogini in his lifetime. The results experienced are not similar in two periods of same yogini. The birth horoscope is fixed and so are the yoginis.

Sages have connected these yoginis to nakshatras. There is a deeper meaning to this proposition. Vimshottari Dasha is also based on nakshatras and have same Dasha lord as the Nakshatra lord. In yogini the Dasha lord is different from the Nakshatra lord. Table II gives the nakshatras and the yogini associated with them along with their lords.

Table II

Nakshatra	Lord	Yogini	Lord
Ashwini	Ketu	BharaMari	Mars
Bharani	Venus	Bhadrika	Mercury
Kritika	Sun	Ulka	Saturn
Rohini	Moon	Siddha	Venus
Mrigshira	Mars	Sankata	Rahu/Ketu
Ardra	Rahu	Mangla	Moon
Punarvasu	Jupiter	Pingla	Sun
Pushya	Saturn	Dhanya	Jupiter
Ashlesha	Mercury	BharaMari	Mars
Magha	Ketu	Bhadrika	Mercury
P. Phalguni	Venus	Ulka	Saturn
U. Phalguni	Sun	Siddha	Venus
Hasta	Moon	Sankata	Rahu/Ketu
Chitra	Mars	Mangla	Moon
Swati	Rahu	Pingla	Sun
Visakha	Jupiter	Dhanya	Jupiter
Anuradha	Saturn	BharaMari	Mars

Jyeshtha	Mercury	Bhadrika	Mercury
Moola	Ketu	Ulka	Saturn
P. Ashadha	Venus	Siddha	Venus
U. Ashadha	Sun	Sankata	Rahu/Ketu
Shravan	Moon	Mangla	Moon
Dhanishta	Mars	Pingla	Sun
Shatbhisha	Rahu	Dhanya	Jupiter
P. Bhadrapad	Jupiter	BharaMari	Mars
U. Bhadrapad	Saturn	Bhadrika	Mercury
Revati	Mercury	Ulka	Saturn

There are 24 yogini in three cycles and 27 nakshatras. Sages have directed that yoginis operate in the order given in Table I. If we see Table II, we note that Revati gives Ulka dasha and next Dasha should be of Siddha. The nakshatra Ashwini which is next in order gives BharaMari. Rohini is the next Nakshatra giving Siddha Dasha.

The problem is to club twenty four yoginis with twenty seven nakshatras. This can be solved by commonly sharing three nakshatras with other three nakshatras contributing same Yoginis. Three nakshatras Ashwini, Bharani and Kritika are dubbed with Poorvabhadrapad, Uttarabhadrapad and Revati respectively. A revised table for the progression of Yogini Dasha is now achieved and is as under:

Nakshatra	Yogini
Ardra	Mangla
Punarvasu	Pingla
Pushya	Dhanya
Ashlesha	BharaMari
Magha	Bhadrika
Poorvaphalguni	Ulka
Uttaraphalguni	Siddha
Hasta	Sankata
Chitra	Mangla
Swati	Pingla
Visakha	Dhanya
Anuradha	BharaMari
Jyeshtha	Bhadrika
Moola	Ulka
Poorvashadha	Siddha
Uttarashadha	Sankata

Shravan	Mangla
Dhanishta	Pingla
Shatabhisaj	Dhanya
Poorvabhadrapad/Ashwini	Bhrama
Uttarabhadrapad/Bharani	Bhadrika
Revati/Kritika	Ulka
Rohini	Siddha
Mrigshira	Sankata

Note the jump from Revati to Rohini. The order of yogini is now maintained.

A practical example is given to illustrate the order of Yogini dasha progression with the nakshatras.

A person is born in Chitra nakshatra. The dasha at birth is Mangla/Chitra. The order of dasha will be as under;

First Cycle

Mangla/Chitra
Pingla/Swati
Dhanya/Visakha
Bhrama/Mar/Anuradha
Bhadrika/Jyeshtha
Ulka/Moola
Siddha/Poorvashadha
Sankata/Uttarashadha

Second Cycle

Mangla/Shravan
Pingla/Dhanishta
Dhanya/Shatabhisaj
Bhrama/Poorvabhadrapad
Bhadrika/Uttarabhadrapad
Ulka/Revati
Siddha/Rohini
Sankata/Mrigshira

Third Cycle

Mangla/Ardra
Pingla/Punarvasu
Dhanya/Pushya
Bhrama/Ashlesha

Bhadrika/Magha
Ulka/Poorvaphalguni

Let us take another example for a person born in Bharani nakshatra. He was born in Bhadraka dasha. The dasha order will be;

First Cycle

Bhadrika/Bharani
Ulka/Kritika
Siddha/Rohini
Sankata/Mrigshira

Sankata/Uttarashadha
Mangla/Shravan
Pingla/Dhanishta
Dhanya/Shatabhisaj
Bhrama/Poorvabhadrapad

Progress Lagna

Progress Lagna concept is the key to this analysis. To arrive at the progress Lagna we must keep the following points in mind;

1. The progress Lagna is the sign which contain the nakshatra contributing the yogini dasha running.
2. All planets remain as they are in the birth chart.
3. When nakshatra contributing the yogini dasha is Dwipada or Tripada, the progress Lagna will change within the duration of dasha. The time of change of progress Lagna is in proportion to the longitude of nakshatra in the signs. This have been clearly stated in the respective chapters of each affected dasha.

Full Example

We now illustrate a example for full method of progression.

A person is born with Moon in scorio 16 deg. 12 min. and date of birth is 20th Dec. 1900.

Refer to table III, We get that person is born in Bhramari yogini dasha. The balance of Bhramari at longitude of 16 deg. 00 min. is 0Y 02M 12 D. The difference between Moon at birth and nearest longitude in table is 12M. Now refer to table IV and look under Bhramari for 12 M. We find the part as 22 days. Since the longitude of moon is more than 16 deg. the balance will be less for 16 deg. 12 min. Subtracting 22 days from 0Y 02M 12 D, we get 0Y 01M 20days as balance of Bhramari dasha at birth. The nakshatra occupied by Moon is Anuradha.

The complete three cycles of yogini with nakshatra and the progress Lagna is drawn for this example.

Yogini Dasha	Ending date	Progress Lagna
Bhramari/Anuradha	10. 02. 1901	Scorpio

A table for balance of Yogini Dasha based on the longitude of Moon in a sign is given. The Yogini dasha running is also indicated.

Another table (Table V) is the sub periods in Yoginis. The special feature is the change of progress Lagna for dwipada and tripad nakshatras. The sub period bringing this change is Marked.

Chapter - 13Transit

Sage Parashar have directed in Chapter 3, Verse 6 of Brihat Parasher Hora Shastra that "From the condition of Planets and ascendent joining and departing from each other are deduced the persons good and bad effects". This fully applies to the transit results of planets. Traditionally transit is seen from the Ascendent and natal Moon. Both these positions are fixed and so are the delineation for each round of the planets. However the mutual placement of planets in transit modify their results.

In the present scheme of progression of ascendent with the Yogini dasha, we can apply the transit in progress chart. Like birth ascendent and Moon we have two progressed reference points and are;

1. Progress Ascendent or Lagna. It is the progress chart recasted with changing the Lagna and keeping all planets as in the natal.
2. The placement of Star lord in the Progress chart. This is akin to the position of Moon used in traditional transit.

In short we formulate that the transit is to be applied from progress Lagna and the star lord contributing the Yogini Dasha.

Double transit of Saturn and Jupiter is to be seen to arrive at the time of fructification of any event promised in the chart.

SATURN

Saturn in transit will influence by conjunction or aspect within one year of event,

- a. The concerned house or lord from progress Lagna or
- b. The concerned house or lord from the Star lord contributing the Yogini dasha.

JUPITER

Jupiter like Saturn will influence these points but within six Months of the event.

SUN

Sun will influence these points but within one Months of the event. For transit of Sun we include the nakshatra lord also.

MOON

Moon will connect these points within three days of the event.

A step by step approach to closely time the event is now outlined.

1. Ascertain the house and lord of the event from progress Lagna and the star lord.
2. Check that the event is promised in birth and progress chart. The progress chart can not provide beyond the promise of birth chart.
3. Arrive at the sub period or antra capable to deliver the promise.
4. Now see the transit of Saturn. Note the date when Saturn gets connected to the house/lord under examination.
5. Bring the time closer by noting the transit of Jupiter in a similar way as done for Saturn.
6. Now mark the signs which are related to house/lords. These rashis are the months of transit of Sun. A good judgement is required to be made to pinpoint the month. We can take help from Parashara guidelines as given at the start of this chapter.
7. Finally apply the transit of Moon for close timing.

This method of transit can be used as a supplement to the traditional transit on natal Lagna and Moon. It gives a double confirmation of the events.

This is now illustrated by applying it on example horoscopes.

Example 1 (Child birth)

First Son was born on 20th August 1944 and second son was born on 14 December 1946. She was running Siddha In Rohini nakshatra.

First son was born in Mangla sub period and second was born on Bhadraka sub period.

The progress chart and the transit chart for both is given.
